Tell the neighborhood propane users: summer is a great time to switch!

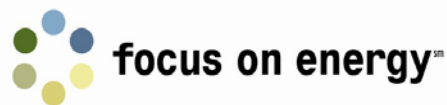

Is your neighbor still using propane? If so, suggest a call to us to install natural gas service this summer. The first 80 feet of service line are free. Natural gas is typically about one-half the cost of propane, for the same heating value. Our website has information for builders and remodelers about placement of meters.

Buy a new water heater, go green, save green!

Talk to your local plumbing and heating contractor about a natural gas water heater, for long term savings. Lower carbon emissions, too. Focus on Energy provides incentives.
