St. Croix Gas celebrates Char Brenna's 25th anniversary with the company

Since 1985 Char Brenna has been greeting customers and ironing out billing questions at our office.

She was hired by company founder Al Piepgras and now works for Al's son Don, president and owner.

Char has many friends in River Falls who stop in to the office just to see her, on a regular basis.

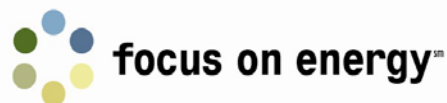

Char coordinates new gas services with billing, oversees budget billing and deferred payment agreements, and runs the monthly billing for over 7000 accounts. She performs many essential and complex functions. She is especially noted for her good sense of humor, kindness and graciousness.

Tell the neighborhood propane users: spring is a great time to switch!

Is your neighbor still using propane? If so, suggest a call to us to install natural gas service this spring. The first 80 feet of service line are free. Natural gas is typically about one-half the cost of propane, for the same heating value. Our website has information for builders and remodelers about placement of meters.
