Business owners and facilities managers:

If you are interested in heating equipment, consider the advantages of efficient, clean natural gas.

DID YOU KNOW? Older boilers typically have efficiencies ranging from 56 to 70%. New condensing models can achieve efficiencies of 97%. Upgrading your natural gas furnace or boiler from 56% to 90% efficiency in an average cold-climate house will save 1.5 tons of carbon dioxide emissions each year.

If you're looking for a high-efficiency condensing furnace, you will find that there are many natural gas options. Natural gas condensing furnaces can achieve up to 97% efficiency and provide many flexible heating options, including forced air and radiant heating.

For Best Results

Ducts that move air to-and-from a forced air furnace, central air conditioner, or heat pump are often big energy wasters. Sealing and insulating ducts can improve the efficiency of your heating and cooling system by as much as 20 percent — and sometimes much more.

PLUS Your heating contractor can help you qualify for rebates from Focus on Energy.
